

The graph consists of a horizontal line segment on the left, followed by three vertical drops and three horizontal segments, creating a descending staircase effect. After the final horizontal segment, the line rises sharply at a 45-degree angle, ending with an arrowhead pointing towards the top right corner.

[illegible]