Peace Prayer

(Unison)

I desire neither earthly kingdom, nor even freedom from birth and death.

I desire only the deliverance from grief of all those afflicted by misery.

Oh Lord, lead us from the unreal to the real, from darkness to light, from death to immortality.

May there be peace in celestial regions.

May there be peace on earth.

May the waters be appeasing.

May herbs be wholesome and may trees and plants bring peace to all.

May all beneficent beings bring peace to us.

May thy wisdom spread peace all through the world.

May all things be a source of peace to all and to me.

Om Shanti, Shanti, Shanti (Peace, Peace, Peace).

O Krishna, surely blessings and victory and power shall not fail for Thy most mighty sake.

Bhagavad-Gita, XVIII

For the Beauty of the Earth

14

1 For the beau-ty of the earth, for the glo-ry of the skies,
 2 For the won-der of each hour of the day and of the night,
 3 For the joy of ear and eye, for the heart and mind's de-light,
 4 For the joy of hu-man love, broth-er, sis-ter, par-ent, child,
 5 For thy-self, best gift di-vine to the world so free-ly given;

for the love which from our birth o-ver and a-round us lies:
 hill and vale, and tree and flower, sun and moon, and stars of light:
 for the mys-tic har-mo-ny link-ing sense to sound and sight:
 friends on earth, and friends a-bove, for all gen-tle thoughts and mild:
 for that great, great love of thine, peace on earth and joy in heaven:

Refrain

Lord of all, to thee we raise this our hymn of grate-ful praise.

In the course of many revisions, the original eucharistic emphasis of this text has shifted to a hymn of thanksgiving for a wide range of human experience, with a Christological summation. It is set here to the tune that is customary in North America, though not elsewhere.

649 Amazing Grace, How Sweet the Sound

1 A - maz - ing grace, how sweet the sound, that 2 'Twas grace that taught my heart to fear, and
3 Through man - y dan - gers, toils, and snares, I
4 The Lord has prom - ised good to me; his 5 When we've been there ten thou - sand years, bright saved a wretch like me! I once was lost, but grace my fears re - lieved. How pre - cious did that have al - read - y come. 'Tis grace has brought me word my hope se - cures. He will my shield and shin - ing as the sun, we've no less days to now am found, was blind, but now I see.

grace ap - pear the hour I first be - lieved!
safe thus far, and grace will lead me home.
por - tion be as long as life en - dures.
sing God's praise than when we'd first be - gun.

As was his custom, the author wrote this hymn to accompany his sermon on 1 Chronicles 17:16–17, preached on January 1, 1773; he called it “Faith’s Review and Expectation.” Much of its current popularity comes from this now-familiar tune, an association that began in 1835.

Sandeep Bharadwaj

(December 10, 1976 - September 26, 2025)

Sandeep Bharadwaj, 48, of Haddon Heights, NJ, died September 26, 2025 in a Willingboro hospital.

He was born on December 10, 1976 in Udaipur, Rajasthan, India. He attended Mandsaur Institute of Technology (MIT, Mandsaur) and worked at various companies in India before fulfilling his lifelong dream of moving to the United States. He married Sarah Eberz and they had two children. He, along with his wife, started Sansar Tec in 2015 and built it into a successful company that he poured his heart and soul into.

He was passionate about helping people find careers where they could excel and building technology that would change how the world does business. His greatest joy though, was his family. Attending events together, helping with soccer teams and sharing his love of technology with his boys were his favorite pastimes.

He is survived by his parents, Anand and Vimla (Vyas) Bharadwaj; his wife, Sarah; sons, Dron, Hari and Rami and siblings, Adarsh and Jyoti and two nieces.
