

HELP WANTED: We Believe Agency is currently accepting applications for a part-time position for a compassionate support person that would go into homes of our participants and provide support and training in their daily lives. This is not physically demanding, and would not be evenings or weekends, but would require some driving to appointments and grocery shopping. If you are looking for 10-20 hours of supplemental income per week, please contact Pam Parsons. webelieveagency@gmail.com, 330-327-0065.

Hebrews 13:15-18

"By him therefore let us offer the sacrifice of praise to God continually, that is, the fruit of our lips giving thanks to his name. But to do good and to communicate forget not: for with such sacrifices God is well pleased. Obey them that have the rule over you, and submit yourselves: for they watch for your souls, as they that must give account, that they may do it with joy, and not with grief: for that is unprofitable for you. Pray for us: for we trust we have a good conscience, in all things willing to live honestly."

If you attend church, then God has given you a pastor to care for your soul by modeling godliness, preaching the Word, and training and exhorting you in righteousness—even when you might not feel like listening. He cares about your spiritual well-being and needs to know you care for him too.

Many believers neglect giving encouragement to the pastor because they forget that he too is a member of the body of Christ. It can be lonely and discouraging to selflessly sacrifice for the congregation without ever receiving honor and appreciation from them.

Today's passage says that we should obey and submit to our leaders so they can faithfully do their job as shepherds with joy instead of groaning. Paul said elders who rule well and work hard at preaching and teaching should be given double honor (1 Timothy 5:17).

When was the last time you expressed appreciation to your pastor? This week, look for ways to demonstrate your love to him. And above all, pray for him. Don't assume that he needs no intercession; the opposite is true. Every pastor needs to know that his congregation values him. – Devotion by In Touch Ministry

Jan's Nuggets

Three fathers at a church meeting were talking about what they would do if a burglar broke into their houses at night. "I'd call the police", said the first one. "I'd have my wife call the police while I grabbed the baseball bat," growled the second. The third man, the father of 3 preschoolers, admitted, "If a burglar came into my room at night, I'd probably get up and take him to the bathroom."
