

"For of Him and through Him and to Him are all things, to whom be glory forever. Amen Romans 11:36

Henry T. Blackaby said in his book, "Experiencing God: Knowing and Doing the Will of God," 'We don't choose what we will do for God; He invites us to join Him where He wants to involve us.' Blackaby reminds us that we should always be alert to where God is at work around us. There are many times that I meet people in random places, but they are not random to God. He is always working!

As I walked down the hall toward the infirmary, I saw several men waiting for an officer to check them out. (The kitchen workers are from Minimum Unit C, so they must be checked in and out.) One of the men asked, "Could you please pray for us? We really need it." So, I prayed with them and for their families back home. He also asked whether I could visit him in Unit C. A week later, I had the opportunity to do so. (Normally, he would not have been available because he had class that morning, but since the teacher did not show up, he was free to visit. As we talked, I realized he was very religious, but he did not have a personal relationship with Jesus. He had never prayed to trust Jesus as his only hope of salvation. He prayed to receive Jesus into his life as Lord and Savior! The Lord is always on time. God had me meet him in Jameson's hallway, so God could save his soul a week later! God is always at work ahead of us or around us.

I had the opportunity to meet a young man who had been baptized a week earlier by another ministry. This ministry does a weekly church service. As we visited about being saved and what baptism meant, he realized he didn't fully understand salvation and baptism. We went over the plan of salvation verses in front of the Gideon Bible. He realized he needed to trust Christ as his Savior, which he did. As we went over other Bible passages, he was very attentive to it. He told me that he was ready to start his new life in Christ with a new perspective on life!

I am enclosing a letter to explain the change in the name of the prison ministry. My prison ministry will continue to be the same. The change is the name to which you make your donation. The change is at the bottom of my newsletter.

Thank you as always for your faithful support through your prayers and your donations!

Prayer is vital in spreading the gospel, because we are in a spiritual battle for souls. Billy Graham said, "Prayer is key to our effort to communicate the Gospel and win men and women to Christ."

In Christ,

Harlan
