

Word of the Week – Corona SDA CM Family, February 12, 2026

Greetings, C.M. Family!

A very Happy Thursday to you all! I pray you are well.

Be honest now, how many of us have gotten to the section in Exodus where the building of tabernacle was taking place in the wilderness, and we just sort of skimmed over it due to the seemingly monotonous details? Guilty as charged! For myself anyway. This morning, I took more time to pay attention to this passage in Exodus 36.

The Israelites were asked to give resources to help in the fabrication of the materials (but only willingly) and they did. So many precious metals, stones, and spices were donated by the people that after a while, they were asked to stop. The giving was exceedingly abundant. God gave certain people specific skills to build the sanctuary. These men (Bezalel and Oholiab) were filled with the Spirit of God and given wisdom and ability to follow the exact instructions the Lord had given to do the building and decorating. Women who were willing to use their talent of sewing and yarn spinning, took the time to make the scarlet thread, fine linen cloth, and yarn used for the curtains. The detailed measurements of the frames, curtains, tent coverings, clasps, etc. were followed down to the inch. Everything was so precise! What a group effort! I love it!

Here is how it all blessed me:

1. God uses a people to build His church in every way. Those who are willing give what they can and give generously.
2. God gives His people gifts and talents to build His church.
3. The details matter; all of it, and everyone.
4. God has special instructions for us to follow.

And here are a few more things that blessed me as I think of myself as being the temple where God tabernacles with me:

1. We are wonderfully and marvelously made by a powerful, creative, and loving God.
2. The details in each one of us is precise and purposeful.
3. God is the Master Designer of each one of us.

Today, I choose to pay attention to the details in others. Today, I am choosing to look at others through the lense of being created by God according to the purpose of His will. And I will choose to use the gifts and talents God has given to me for His kingdom purposes.

Have a blessed day, everyone. Love to all!

Kelly
