

Dear friends and supporters,

As we near the end of 2020 many, if not all of you, have experienced much sadness along with a feeling of insecurity. Whether it is the loss of family or friends due to the virus, trying to survive in the struggling economy, or just coping with the everyday news, each of us probably has questions that we would love to have answered by our God. Satan's desire is that we focus on this insecurity, wondering how our lives may be affected by the changes we're observing all around us. Will the new vaccines be effective? How will the new political administration affect our way of life? Will our lives ever return to normal?

What a contrast these fears are to the simplicity of the plan God put in place before time began. The Son of God arrived on earth as a child born in a lowly manger. He was both God and man and lived a sinless life. His character was one of a humble servant and He paid the ultimate sacrifice, crucified on a cruel rugged cross for the sins of the entire world. He was buried, rose again and intercedes on our behalf to the Father when we confess our sins and believe on Him.

As we focus on and celebrate His birth at Christmas, are we able to say as He did to the Father, "It is finished"? Can we replace the anxieties of this world with the assurance that He has set in place a plan, not only for our world but for each of our lives? And after the celebration of Christmas is over, can we continue living every day of the year praising and glorifying Him?

Our prayer for you is that for every challenge, disappointment and pain that has occurred or will occur in your life, you will be able to trust in His plan, that as the creator of the universe and every life, He ultimately knows best. So the joy we have at Christmas and throughout the year will not depend on our circumstances but our level of trust in the Christmas message, "Joy to the world, the Lord has come, Let earth receive her King." Through the inspiration of the Holy Spirit, may each of us always be willing to share the hope and the simplicity of the Christmas message throughout the year. It has been said that the value of a life is a measure of how much of that life is given away. God has given us the opportunity "at such a time as this" to show His love to others who are struggling to cope with their circumstances during this Christmas season.

Many of you or those you know may be going through trials that take some of the focus of Christmas away from the Christ child. We believe that it is God's desire that this special joy will return to you. Our Christian volunteers are always willing to share your burdens if you should just need someone to talk to.

Thank you for all your faithful prayers, support and encouragement throughout the past year. Have a blessed Christmas.
