MISSIONS INTERNATIONAL

October 18, 2021

Pastor Charles Bias
Elkview Baptist Church
1150 Main Street
Elkview, WV 25071

Dear Pastor Bias and church family:

Next year Frontline will mark its 30th anniversary, and there is much I want to share about these years of God's faithfulness and the grace-upon-grace we've experienced. Some of the open doors in the early years are in places that have since been renamed and redrawn in the atlas. In some of those war-torn lands, shattered cities have been rebuilt and the bomb-cratered fields I remember have been cleared of land mines and grass now softens the wounds of war.

Well, I'll write more about that big anniversary next year, but there's also been a little anniversary that we are pretty proud of around here. We just passed the one-year mark of sending out our monthly e-newsletter! We continue to send the quarterly print newsletter, Dispatches, but the monthly e-news has filled an important gap to open up more windows to Frontline's mission and--even more importantly--open up more windows to showcase God's saving work in the world! Through short videos, articles, news, prayer updates, and some fun features, we've been able to stay better connected without overwhelming our friends' inboxes! And the response we're getting makes us glad for the time we are investing in preparing each month's e-news. Here are just a few of the notes we have received:

Thanks and praise to God for all the work you're able to do across the world in advancing God's kingdom! I was very encouraged by the Field Report about the I John commentary.

Another wonderful "book" of updates that makes me glad to be part of FMI. Praying much for you.

What an incredible report for this month! It was particularly special to have the overview of the 2021 FX interns' preparation included (well done on the visual compilation and summary!).

If you aren't getting our e-news, you can sign up on the About page of our website: www.frontlinemissions.info. Or call the Frontline office and ask to be added to the e-news list. Thank you for your support for this work. As Paul said in his "thank-you letter" to the Philippian Christians, you have supplied for the needs of this mission "once and again." We are so grateful for you!

Grace and peace,

Tim Keesee
Executive Director
