

March 2021

Dear Colaborers in Christ,

At the time of writing this letter, we are at the one-year anniversary of the pandemic shutting down businesses, travel, visitation with family and friends. Needless to say, the last 12 months have been difficult for all of us. We were concerned last March/April about how we were going to serve our existing clients as well as provide for all of the new clients we knew were coming due to the shutdown.

Thankfully, due to the faithfulness of donors like you, we were able to not only provide for our clients and staff during the shutdown, but we were able to provide thousands of meals to seniors throughout the valley that could not travel to the grocery store for fear of contracting Covid. Most of the increase in food distribution through late spring and into summer of 2020 was possible only because of your financial generosity. We were able to purchase way more food than what normally enters our warehouse through normal donation conduits.

Hopefully, we are now on the decline of the pandemic and restrictions will continue to lift. I earnestly desire your continued support of the mission as we look to expand our reach of helping the hurting and address the long-term effects of the pandemic when it comes to joblessness and addiction. We are seeing evidence that some may have turned to destructive habits due to the lack of hope last year in the midst of the pandemic.

Thank you again for your support and prayers you offer on behalf of Union Mission. Without your generosity, we could simply not function as an organization. I pray you are safe and well and that 2021 allows us all to spend more time with friends and family.

Your Friend,

Jason S. Quintrell
President/CEO

wefeedpeople.com