Dear Colaborers in Christ,

We, the team at Union Mission, cannot thank you enough for your generosity. Your financial contributions allow this organization to continue to help the hurting people of West Virginia. Your gifts help feed the hungry, provide clothing, furniture, and basic hygiene items for people experiencing temporary hard times. While the physical needs of our clients are met on a daily basis thanks to donations like yours, your generosity helps us offer the most important gift available – the gift of salvation through Jesus.

Throughout all our ministry services, the Gospel is boldly offered to those that will hear it. Men in our shelter can hear the Word offered every day. Families seeking assistance from Union Mission are introduced to the Gospel message. The Women and Men in the addiction recovery programs are engaged in daily devotions.

These efforts to show men and women the love of Jesus does not prove fruitless. From time to time, the staff at Union Mission gets to witness God move in the hearts of men and women. The week of drafting this letter, we had one such occasion. Chris Jones, one of our Addiction Recovery Coaches explains it best.

"H. S. had never been exposed to the Gospel. He wasn't very accepting of the message at first," Chris says, "but the Lord was working in his heart. One morning, he came into my office, shut the door, and said, 'Let's do this'. He confessed Jesus as Lord and savior and went right into the daily devotional meeting with the other men to proclaim his new faith in Christ. That is what this job is all about!"

Your financial gifts make opportunities like this possible. Your gifts help provide Bibles to the men and women. They help provide study material for daily devotions. They help pay salaries and keep the lights on in our buildings. It all works to the glory of God!

We thank you for your gift and humbly ask you to continue to partner with us in the future so we can tell many more stories like this one.

Your Friend,

Jason S. Quintrell, President/CEO
