3 INSPIRING QUOTES
2 THOUGHTS
1 PRACTICAL STEP

SMALL GROUPS

DISCIPLESHIP GROUPS

> What doesn't get transformed gets transmitted.
> - Ronald Rolheiser -

> God is in Himself a sweet society of love.
> - Dallas Willard -

> You might know that Christ died and rose again on your behalf to rinse you clean of all your sin; but do you know his deepest heart for you?
> - Dane Ortlund -

THOUGHT 1

This distance between the head and heart is only 12-14". As short of a distance as it may be, a foot might feel like an unbridgeable chasm. The path of discipleship to Jesus lies between the head and the heart. This path is paved in obedience. Moving from believing in Jesus (in your head) to really knowing Him (in your heart) as Lord and Friend requires agreement - that is, I must willingly accept that Jesus actually knows what He's talking about and I can trust that He has my best interests at heart.

THOUGHT 2

In the gospels, Jesus strongly urges his followers to watch and pray to overcome temptation. What do we watch out for? The spiritual attacks on our souls waged by the unholy trinity of Comfort, Hurry, and Distraction. Comfort makes us lazy (apathetic). Hurry makes us unloving. Distraction makes us unfocused.

The way to push back against these forces and live an Active, Unhurried, and Intentional life is to train with Jesus to become a different kind of person in your heart and habits.

1 STEP

Right now there are a few opportunities for you to train with Jesus and bridge the gap between your head and your heart. I'm leading a study called "Journey of the Soul" on Sunday mornings at 11:15am.
Click here for details and registration.

Also, starting in February, I'm offering a 4-week discipleship group training course on Tuesday nights where we focus on reading God's Word and putting it into practice in our lives.
Click here for details and registration.

Lead on!
Josh